Describe how the Project will or will not proceed if federal funds requested are not ultimately awarded.*

IAMO Communications (IAMO) determined the total eligible infrastructure costs to be $1,452,200 for the College Springs East FTTP Project. IAMO's Empower Rural Iowa Broadband grant request is 75%, $1,089,150, of the total eligible infrastructure costs in the proposed area, with 25% being self-funded by IAMO. IAMO is committed to working toward overall community enhancement that includes residents, businesses, and community anchor institutions within the rural areas of Page County. Access to high-speed broadband service should be available to every resident regardless of whether they live in town or out in the rural areas. After reviewing the financial feasibility of the project, the locations included in IAMO's application would be too costly to build without funding assistance. Due to the rural nature and relatively low population density, this project would be difficult to justify without the financial assistance from the Empower Rural Iowa Broadband Grants Program. Therefore, the proposed College Springs East FTTP Project will likely not move forward as presented without grant assistance.
